Embrace a COZY feeling this season of gorgeous decorations in abundance while kicking back in natural and homey surroundings, as the international home interior company Bloomingville introduces its brand-new Autumn/Winter 2019 design line; COZY.

Different shapes of artsy looking ceramics glazed in beautiful earthy nuances and enticing furniture are key to the COZY design line by Bloomingville. In offering a unique scenery of natural and dazzling home décor, COZY will be worth your while when exploring the 2019 autumn/winter essentials.

The rich and lavish collection takes its point of departure in wonders of nature, introducing a soothing natural color scheme that allows for an intimate and all-embracing setting. Elements like bamboo, wood, terracotta and kilim are showcased throughout the design line, adding a rustic and authentic look that is bound to charm you and your family.

Tranquil furniture

In welcoming the AW19 season, COZY lets in an instant feeling of serenity, warmth and tranquility that enables a caring natural styling with room for personal interpretation. The collection brings a laid-back sensation into every living space, because of its emphasis on deco in natural materials and beautiful furniture. Designed to evoke an instant feeling of relaxation and intimacy, the COZY design line offers a portfolio of comfortable furniture, such as the new HAILEY daybed with an appealing velvety look and a warm and intense color scheme of burnt orange – so aesthetically dazzling for no one to resist! Moreover, the collection provides the everyday designer with personal home décor and a great variety of styling options, which makes the COZY look very relatable and easy to recreate at home.

The COZY look

The perfect COZY look attracts the everyday designer, who loves calm settings and a good coffee brew while she cuddles up on a sofa decorated with lovely cushions and throws in ethnic textile patterns. Living spaces thick with wall décor and organically shaped vases in warm colors perfectly describe the COZY scenery; it is effortlessly styled to create an imperfect and relaxed ambience. Complete the look with an easy set-up of weaved baskets and stoneware vases with dried flowers and combine with the trending season must-haves to make a peaceful home that pays attention to detail.

Rustic style and dining

COZY is a gathering of golden shades and intelligent use of rustic materials with tactile and smooth surfaces. The style is raw and edgy, still being feminine and delicate with charming details and cuttings that reflect its close ties to nature. The aesthetics of raw materials also run through the dining room, as COZY presents its new romantic ALIA tableware, glazed in beautiful dusty rose that both accentuates its rough exterior while keeping its unique shine and shape. The COZY tableware treats your dining guests to a sensible experience that not only looks but also feels extraordinary.
